

YO-IFOS VIDEO SUBMISSION

Dear Yo-IFOS/IFOS members,

We thank you very much for all your quality video submissions so far. The scientific and educational quality is very high and we look forward to publishing this special edition.

We would like to extend the submission deadline to 14 February 2021 (midnight), to include more worldwide videos representing all sub-specialties.

Please find enclosed the recommendations for authors, for submission in this special issue of the European annals of otorhinolaryngology head and neck diseases.

Briefly, the videos have to be short (5 minutes maximum) and edited. The quality as well as the educational features will be decisive for the acceptance of the video, after peer-review.

It is required that the video be edited and demonstrates key points of a surgical technique. Narration or subtitles in English are compulsory. Take home messages should be clearly identified at the end of the videos and in the video description.

For more details, the video editing process should follow the IVORY guidelines (<https://doi.org/10.1002/lary.29020>), which are included in the recommendations for Authors.

How to submit your video? Via Editorial Manager (EM)

1. Go to the submission site here
2. Register your author profile and use your credentials
3. Click on Special Issue: YO-IFOS Surgical Videos
4. Follow your video article from submission to publication

In the submission process please make sure to select the article category “Special Issue: YO-IFOS Surgical Videos”, so that your articles will be forwarded correctly for review.

Submissions are now open. We would appreciate, if you could submit your articles by February 14th 2021 (midnight).
